GEORGE WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY CELEBRATIONS.

Day's Program Consisted of Two
Very Interesting Basket Ball Games.

The anniversary of the coming into this world by "our Father," was a very quiet day among University students. On account of circumstances which could not be avoided, the annual contest of the Union Literary Society orators was not held, and the only amusement of any kind was a one-sided basket ball game between the young ladies and the Maysville High School girls' team, and a spirited practice game between the first and second varsity teams which was refereed in queenly style by Captain T. B. Hayden, the all-star girl player of the State.

The following report of the two games appeared in the Commercial Tribune of Cincinnati. (Wonder who's responsible).

By a score of 38 to 3 the girls' basket ball team of State University defeated the girls' team from Maysville High School Tuesday afternoon in Buell's Armory.

The game was witnessed by one of the largest crowds of the season, and, although the visitors were at a disadvantage on account of age and training, they played fairly good ball and won the admiration of the audience by their tenacity and pluck.

The game was called at 3:30 o'clock, and hardly had referee Brown's whistle blown for the toss before the State lassies were half-way down the field with the ball which Miss Rodes succeeded in basketing for them. In rapid succession, goal after goal was scored by Misses Rodes, Vaughn and Hayden, the stars of the contest, while the Maysville team did not get a goal until the end of the quarter when State substituted her second team and Miss Owens got a pretty throw from the center of the field.

The score by quarters was:

First quarter—State 14; Maysville 0.

Second quarter—State 12;

Maysville 1. (point awarded.)

Third quarter—State 15; Maysville 2.

Total—State 38; Maysville 3.

The line-up was:

State—Vaughn and Hayden, forwards; Rodes, center; Johnson and Fleming, guards.

Maysville—Dickson and Zweigart, forwards; Owen, center; Waller and Campbell, guards.

State subs—Hughes, center; Jones, forward; Nolan and Beddinger, guards.

Umpire—Brown, Y. M. C. A.

Referee—Miss Wallace, State University.

Exhibition Game.

At the conclusion of the game, an exhibition practice game between the boys' first and second teams was given, and the contest was made all the more interesting by Miss Bessie Hayden, of the girls' team acting as referee. This was the first time a young lady ever refereed a game between males in the city, and the audience applauded loudly when the pretty little lassie, with her hair streaming down her back, darted from place to place on the floor and called fouls and boundaries with the judgment of an expert referee.

The final score of this game was 20 to 5 in favor of the first team.

The line-up was:

First team—Post and Marx, forwards; Gaiser, center; Barbee and Threlkeld, guards.

Second team—Hart and Farmer, forwards; Fox, center; Weisenburg and Johnson, guards.

Kansas has voted to abolish football temporarily, pending modifications of the rules which will render the sport less dangerous.

Teaching by moving pictures is a new method instituted in the College of Agriculture at Cornell.

Be Sure to Attend the Military Ball Saturday.

TO HANG SHINGLES IN WEST

Several of Senior Law Class To Invade the Wild and Woolly Regions of the Setting Sun.

Quite a number of the Senior class of the College of Law are making preparation to locate in Western states after examination this summer, and they are all preparing to practice their profession.

Among these are W. W. Prewitt, who expects to go to Southern Arkansas or Northern Texas; Baldwin, who will either locate in New Mexico or Montana, Faulconer and Harold Youell, who intend to go to Montana.

There is no doubt but that all of these will make good wherever and whenever they go, as they are among the foremost students of the class and have innate legal minds.

Some of the graduates will locate here, others in different parts of the State and some few will venture into the Eastern field.

Mr. James T. Clay intends to go to New York to enter a large law firm there; Mr. South Strong will locate in Jackson, Ky., and T. C. Carroll will enter the office of his father at Louisville.

Notice.

There will be a very important meeting of the Junior Class in the Y. M. C. A. room Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Every member of the class is urged to be present, as definite steps will be taken in regard to the Junior Prom.

Respectfully,
W. W. STEVENSON.

At Reserve a student who has more than two unexcused absences must take a special examination in order to receive credit.

NO STATE-T. U. GAME.

Young Ladies Pucker Up Their Dainty Little Lips and Go Home.

Owing to the fact that our visitors across the way felt unequal to the task of playing in a place as large as the armory, the game between State and Transylvania girls, which was to have been played Saturday, was postponed after both teams had donned their battling clothes and the audience had arrived for the fun.

There was nothing in the contract as to where the game should be played and it looked to State students like a clear back-out. It is not known whether or not another date will be arranged.

The "Arcadians" of the University of Virginia, whose visit was so much enjoyed last year, will present an original comic opera at the Lexington Opera House on Friday (tomorrow) night.

The Club has met with great success on its tour this year, and "Thriftyland" comes to us recommended as one of the best college operas ever staged. The songs, all original, are catchy and artistic, while the actors who are all young men, are very good. There are some high-class singers in the cast, especially the leading man, who has received thundering applause at every city the Arcadians have visited.

The Glee Club has postponed its recital on account of the opera, and every student at State should attend the performance Friday night, both on account of the pleasure obtained and out of courtesy to our sister University—the University of Virginia.

Extensive campus improvements are being carried on at the University of California. There are in the course of construction a chemistry building costing $200,000, three new tennis courts, an ornamental drinking fountain and a memorial gate.

SPRING FEVER.

With each little streak of sunshine there creeps into our bones the first tingle of a happy drowsy sensation commonly known as spring fever, and our minds involuntarily wander from the dull monotones of studious solitude to dreams of a life worth living in the open air amid the awakening beauties of reviving nature.

There also comes to us an innate desire to get out, kick up our heels and spend some of the physical energy we have been collecting during the long periods of King Winter's reign. Some of us do this very thing, all of us change our habits and look at life from a different standpoint.

But the most manifest and most noticeable sign of quickly approaching spring-time is the national passion for base ball which it inevitably brings. There is probably not a man in the University who does not enjoy a base ball game and there are very few who would not like to make the team.

If you are among the majority, now is the time, the time to do something worth while and to get rid of your surplus energy in a way most beneficial. Each afternoon as we pass the armory we hear the thud of the ball and the crack of the bat, and almost always we think of the splendid games that are to come, of the battles in which State's laurels will be the only laurels and of the nine men who will be the idols of their classmates and the heroes of the hour.

Who those men will be, no one can tell; but by the maxim of the survival of the fittest," everyone has an equal chance. Our team is going to be a winner this season, and the honor is well worth the trying. Let every one do his best and we will see Who is Who in State University base ball.

Improvements Made With "Richelieu" Proceeds.

The success of undertakings should not always be measured by their monetary results. Some movements, in the history of men, have resulted in no financial gain, yet they have produced such a wholesome effect that we must pronounce them distinct successes. Although the recent production of "Richelieu" will not be remembered on account of the large amount of money it deposited in the coffers of the Dramatic Club, yet the weight that it had in creating an interest in the drama and fostering and engendering a spirit in dramatic art shall long make it memorable.

Science has held sway in our technical schools in the past to the utter exclusion of all classics. Especially has this been true at Kentucky State. It is as important for the engineer to know how to express himself as the ordinary classical scholar. What we all need is more history and literature, a greater appreciation of the beautiful and the sublime. We are too narrow. The drama is without question the highest form of literature. Any education is incomplete without a knowledge of a few of the world's greatest dramas. The proceeds from "Richelieu" will be far-reaching indeed if they have started an initiative movement in this department of university life. If some one has been interested in the greatest of all arts—expression, we shall know we have not worked in vain, and that is much to know.

The New Carnegie Library.

Without, the library building is by far the most artistic and attractive on the campus. Within it is much the most interesting and should be the most frequented. The collection of books is along all lines and on all subjects. There are books of interest to everybody, books which treat of engineering and scientific research, as well as classic antiquities. All of the best magazines and periodicals published are to be found in the library. Interest is growing to peruse the contents of this stately, though small, edifice and during open hours—from 2 until 5 p. m., it is thronged by Profs and students eager to partake of its boundless store of knowledge.

Essentials.

The following are what are required of students at one of our sister colleges according to a recent bulletin published by said college:

1. Each pupil must be provided with a Bible, academic dictionary, an umbrella, a pair of overshoes, a hot water bottle, and a supply of towels, napkins, two pairs of sheets, 2 1-4 yards wide, two pairs of pillow cases 18x30, one white spread for bed, one pair of blankets or one comfort, one laundry bag marked with owner's name, also spoon, knife and fork, for use in chamber in case of illness.

J. W. Kelly of Princeton was awarded his 'varsity "P" for winning the intercollegiate tumbling championship.

Joy Miller, the disgraced Michigan football man, is reported to be wandering in British Columbia in an insane condition.

The baseball team of the University of Wisconsin which sailed from Seattle some time ago for a tour of the Orient, has returned to the United States.

Students of economics at Iowa University are to be given the opportunity of assisting in census work this year.

The Sigma Chi of North Dakota will present a cup to the winners of the women's inter-class basketball series.

Military Ball.

The Cadet Band will give a Military Ball in Buell Armory, on Saturday, Feb. 26th, from 8 till 12 p. m.

The affair promises to be one of the most brilliant dances ever given at State. The interior of the armory has been painted, the floor smoothed up and polished, and by Saturday night the large room will be resplendent in United States flags, guns, sabres, and inandescent light decorations.

The ball will be a 24-number program dance, and it will be one of the rare chances the students at State have of dancing to band music. The band has been practicing two-steps and waltzes for some time, and it expects to show the student body what it can do.

The ball, as stated above, is to be a military affair. All members of the Battalion are asked to appear in uniform, with white gloves; officers to wear side arms. This does not exclude Seniors, Juniors and others who wish to attend, for their presence is desired as much as the members of the Battalion.

The ball is being given for the benefit of the band. Several new musical instruments are needed, and the proceeds will go towards buying them.

Students or professors accompanied by young ladies, can obtain tickets for fifty cents. Stags will be charged 75 cents.

The Patterson Literary Society meets in its society hall, Gymnasium Building, every Saturday night at 8:00 p. m. The following program will be rendered at the next meeting:

Declamation—Evans.

Current Events—C. B. Wilson.

College Happenings—V. Y. Moore.

Debate.

Resolved: That the so-called trusts are the source of more evil than good.

Affirmative — Seneca Rountt, Morris Ross.

Negative—John Wilson, W. C. Halbert.

Decision of Judges.

Each member will be asked to express his views upon the question.

Report of the Critic.

Visitors are invited to attend the literary part of the meeting.

Practical experience in engineering work for at least three months is a new requirement that has been added to the engineering curriculum at Syracuse.

James J. Hill has offered to give Huron College, S. D., $50,000 for its endowment fund if the college will raise $200,000 additional within the next year.

One million dollars has been set aside by the trustees of the Peabody fund for the establishment of the George Peabody College for Teachers at Nashville, Tenn.

To awaken interest in the sport within the university, Syracuse has formed a swimming association, although as yet no outside competitions are being planned.

G. O. Shields, president of the League of American Sportsmen, addressed the students of Brown University recently on the subject of the preservation of wild game.

Dr. Henry Van Dyke, Murray Professor of English literature at Princeton, has been elected a member of the Royal Literary Society of England. Hon. Joseph Choate is the only other American who has been similarly honored.

Ill health has compelled Dr. Angell, president emeritus of Michigan University, to go south for the winter.

Indiana University is considering a proposed increase in the amount of major credit work required for graduation.

James G. Lathrop former coach of Harvard's track team, will take charge of Wisconsin's einder path artists this year.

Eight hundred and eight men are in attendance upon the short courses at the University of Illinois. A grand total of 900 is expected.

Funds are being raised by Yale students for the equipment of a hospital vessel for the settlement of Dr. Grenfell on the Labrador coast.

Syracuse University has placed its band on a permanent basis by giving each man who qualifies as a member a scholarship valued at $60 a year.

A Purdue professor asserting that barbarisms in speech are not confined to modern times cites instances of the use of slang in the Bible.

The Harvard Alumni Association have chosen Theodore Roosevelt to be its next president. He is to succeed ex-President Eliot, who is retiring.

Student journalists at Missouri will be the guests of Governor Hadley at a ball in connection with the state meeting of the Missouri Press Association.

ABOUT POLONIUS

Polonius was disgusting and Hamlet did well when he killed him.

Polonius was the banished King in "As You Like It."

Tommy—"When ma asked me if I'd been stealing again, I said, 'yes.'"

Johnny—"Why didn't you deny it?"

Tommy—"I didn't have the face to say 'no.'"

TRANSFERRED.

Asker—"So, you found your 'painless filing' sign that the college boys took."

Pullen—"Yes, the confounded young scamps had stuck it over a restaurant."

HAD HEARD AN ANTHEM.

A sailor who had been to a church service, where he heard some fine music, was afterwards descanting upon an anthem which had given him great pleasure.

A listening shipmate finally asked: "I say Bill, what's a hanthem?"

"What?" exclaimed Bill. "Do you mean to say you don't know what a hanthem is?"

"Not me."

"Well, then, I'll tell yer. If I was to ask yer, 'Ere Bil, give me that 'and spike,' that wouldn't be a hanthem. But if I was to say, 'Bill, Bill, Bill, give, give, give, me, give me that. Bill, give me, give me that 'and, give me that 'andspike, spike, spike. Bill, give me that, that 'andspike, 'and, 'and spike, spike, spike, spike. Ahmen, ahmen. Bill, give me that 'andspike, spike. Ahmen!' why, that would be a hanthem."

HIPPODROME.

"Wanted—A Teacher" in the hands of Charles Murray, of the famous Murray & Mack combination, and Miss Mae Hamilton, is proving to be the comedy treat of the season. Murray as a stage manager looking for a position, later as an actor of the old school, and finally as a well-to-do "Hay-Seed" from a back county in search of his long-lost daughter, presents each character in inimitable style and brings out the comedy in a way as to be interesting as well as amusing. The Cox Family Five also have a decided hit in the little comedy sketch with music, "The Italian Music Master." While none of the voices are phenomenal, they form a good quartette, and the comedy work of Mr. Cox as "The Master" in his efforts to handle the English language, is laughingly ridiculous. Spence and Austin, song and dance artists Marshall Bros., in a clever exhibition of Physical Culture attainments and the Hipposcope with an unusual comedy film, complete the bill.

Central University Defeats Vanderbilt.

A dispatch from Danville, Feb. 22, says:

Tuesday night, Central University, by defeating Vanderbilt by the score of 52 to 28, is the undefeated Southern Champion of Intercollegiate Basket Ball. The game in which Central won this title was one of the fastest and at the same time one of the roughest games played on the local floor, but few fouls were made by either side.

An audience of over 500 persons witnessed the game the largest audience at a basket ball game ever assembled in this city.

The team work of Central was magnificent and they showed better form than in any game this season. At the end of the first half the score stood 29 to 8 in favor of Central, but in the first part of the second half Vanderbilt rallied, making eight points before Central could score a basket.

The team work of the locals, however, swept the visitors off their feet, and Central rapidly piled up an overwhelming score.

The star game for Central was played by Hess, Louis Seelbach and Mason. The whole Vanderbilt team played good ball but McGee probably played the best individual game.

The teams were evenly matched—each having one or two tall men on it. This is Vanderbilt's first defeat of the season, and they were confident of winning the game.

The line-up of the two teams was as follows:

Vanderbilt—McGee, center; Penticost and Sorrels, guards; Nelson and Martin, forwards.

Central—Will Seelbach, center; Hess and Mason, guards; Wardle and Louis Seelbach, forwards.

Time of Halves—20 minutes.
Referee—Banks of Central.

Turveyland.

The performance of "Turveyland" at the Opera House Friday evening by "The Arcadians" of the University of Virginia is an event of interest in society.

A reception and dance at the Elks Club will follow the play and all the chaperones and their friends are invited to attend and meet the Arcadians.

The boxes will all be taken and many theater parties are also being planned which will make an attractive audience to greet the young artists.
